Incorporating the Cornhill Training Course Scotland

Dear Friends,

We greatly appreciate your continued support and prayers for our work in Glasgow. A few points:

- Summer term ends in June, and our current students will be leaving us for new work. Please pray for them: some are going on to further ministerial training, some to posts in churches as assistant pastors, and others are not sure yet.
- Recruiting for next year: we have four students definitely signed on so far, with three or four more almost certain to be booked in very soon, and several others enquiring. Please pray that we will have another intake of excellent students, preferably a few more than in previous years!
- Forthcoming events: Our current year is due to end on a high note with our “Servants of the Word” conference in June 16-18, to be attended by our current students and we hope a good number of younger ministers from around Scotland. Our speakers this year are Dick Lucas, Richard Coekin and Paul Levy.

Bob Fyall and I are due to be helping with the teaching at the Cornhill Summer School in London (June 29 - July 3), and Bob is preparing to hold Cornhill evening classes again in Glasgow in the early autumn.

- Our profile in Scotland is gradually becoming more firmly established; and we trust that what we do (in the Cornhill Training Course) and what we represent (in terms of biblical Christianity committed to biblical exposition) is becoming better known and trusted.

To be able to do this work is a joy and a privilege. Please pray that it will become deeply established, and will bring real strength to the churches in Scotland.

With warmest good wishes, Edward Lobb
